

The Blue Sage Band - Brief Band Description and Biographies

Featuring banjo, twin fiddles and bass, the Blue Sage Band is a high energy acoustic folk group specializing in bluegrass, folk, and cowboy/western music.

The music of the Blue Sage Band revolves around the repertoire of folk singer Mike Iverson. Widely regarded as one of the finest clawhammer style banjo players, Mike also plays guitar and mandolin with the band.

Playing bass fiddle with the band is Shauna Iverson whose driving technique powers the Blue Sage sound. Shauna's personality shines through on stage and audiences find her as much fun to watch as to listen to!

Blue Sage features the "twin fiddles" of Rob Ricks and Heather Blaisdell. Rob is an incredibly gifted bluegrass fiddler while Heather draws from the Celtic and American fiddle tradition; the mix of the two styles is pure magic on stage...