

Alternate String Hammer-Ons & Pull-Offs

Strike a string and follow with a hammer-on or pull-off on another string. To play an alternate string pull-off, you must start with a finger fretted up higher on the string than the note being pulled-off to!

- Begin by playing the following preparatory exercise:

- Starting with the 3rd string 2nd fret held down, strike the open 4th string and then pull-off the finger you already have in place on the 3rd string. You will have created the sound of the open 4th string followed by the sound of the open 3rd string.

- Play the following preparatory exercise:

- Strike the 4th string and then hammer-on to the 2nd fret, 3rd string. You will have to hammer forcefully in order for the note to be heard!
